2 Officials Branded as Red Agents

Network Outlined In Probe

Ex-Communist Lists Leaders

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Whittaker Chambers, who said he was a communist from 1924 to 1937, testified today that the Red "underground" then included Alger Hiss, state department official, and Nathan Witt, attorney for the national labor relations board.

Chambers testified under oath before the House unAmerican Activities committee, which is investigating charges of Soviet spying in this country.

Across the Capitol, a Senate committee also was continuing hearings on alleged communist spying. There, Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) protested the committee's failure this far to receive information it has asked from the commerce department about William W. Remington.

Ferguson called it an administration-imposed "handicap" on congressional efforts to get to the bottom of the spy story.

Chambers, now an associate editor of Time magazine, said in a prepared statement read to the House committee that he himself "served in the underground, chiefly in Washington."

He said there was an underground organization developed, to the best of his knowledge, by Harold Ware, one of the sons of the communist leader known as "Mother Bloor."

He went on:

"I knew it at its top level, a group of seven or so men, from among whom, in late years, certain members of Miss (Elizabeth T.) Bentley's organization were apparently recruited."

WITT CALLED LEADER

The head of the underground group was Nathan Witt, an attorney for the national labor relations board. Later John Apt, became the leader.

"Lee Pressman was also a member of this group, as was Alger Hiss, who, as a member of the state department later organized the conferences at Dumbarton Oaks, San Francisco and the U.S. side of the Yalta conference."

Miss Bentley, mentioned by Chambers, is the young woman who told a sensational story last week of collecting information for the Russians from scores of government employes during the war.

She and Chambers both describe themselves as former communists who turned against the party and went to federal authorities with their stories.

Remington is an official in the office of International trade. He was named by Miss Bentley, as one of the government workers she said turned secret data over to her during the war.

The committee's request for Remington's employment record was sent ot the White House because President Truman has forbidden government agencies to give out any information on "loyalty" checks on government workers.

Senate Will Work Late

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio), conceded today that it would be "absolutely impossible" to break the southern anti-poll tax filibuster. But Republican Senate leaders shooting for Saturday adjournment of the special session, scheduled a Senate meeting tonight to dispose of other items.

Taft told reporters after a meeting of the GOP policy committee that it would be impossible to smash the "Dixiecrat" talkathon without amending the Senate rules. That would be impossible until next year, he said.

But the GOP leaders said the Senate will be held in session until 10 o'clock tonight in an effort to clear the decks for limited action on high prices and housing.

The Republican policy leaders called a conference of all GOP senators tomorrow to discuss their tentative plans to tighten up on credit inflation, pass a modified long-range housing bill and adjourn for the year on Saturday.

ANTI-TRUST SUIT FILED

WASHINGTON—(UP)—The justice department announced today that a civil suit has been filed in New York federal court charging Decca Records, Inc., with violating anti-trust laws.

Village Awaits Action

South Boulevards residents will learn tonight whether they are to become Mansfielders or retain their status as a suburban village.

City council is scheduled to act on the proposal to annex the village to the city.

Other issues scheduled for council action are a resolution to put a $500,000 sewer bond program before the public and the possible first reading of a traffic law recodification measure.

Although council has passed an annexation ordinance for South Boulevards, passage on the apportionment of the debt of the village will be necessary to make the corporation a part of the city of Mansfield. If passed, the annexation will become effective Sept. 2.

The sewer bond issue, recommended by Mayor Roy W. Vaughn to finance a five-year storm sewer rehabilitation program, will be sponsored by Councilman George C. Kyle.

FULL VOTE SOUGHT

Passage of the resolution would put the issue before the public at the November general election and if approved then would necessitate a tax rate increase.

Even if the traffic ordinance does receive a first reading tonight, Frend C. Boals, traffic commissioner, said the one-way street provisions would not go into effect for about a year.

The extension of East Fifth street between Snyder street and the Ashland road has several times been termed as a necessity to the one-way street program. The land is owned by the Mansfield Telephone company which has declared it has no intention of selling the land.

Race Bookie Under Cover

Mansfield's latest race bookie has gone "underground."

"Unfavorable publicity" was cited by one of the habitues of the poolroom under the bookie as the reason the horse race bet establishment at 186½ North Main street has adopted a secretive, closed-door policy.

However, two News-Journal reporters today found that betting operations were still going on full blast.

The front door is no longer open. Patrons must either walk through the pool room or go up the back fire escape ladder.

One reporter recognized one of the poolroom occupants as one of two operators of the horse racing bookie joint upstairs.

In answer to a reporter's query about bookie operations, one poolroom idler said: "The only thing I know about horses is that they eat hay."

Meanwhile, Police Chief Jesse J. Schwab said today that there were no developments in the investigation of the new gambling operations here.

"How can there be when The News-Journal publishes everything we're going to do in advance?" the chief asked a reporter.

Texas Price Revolt Grows

DALLAS, Tex.—(UP)—The Dallas "petticoat rebellion" against high meat prices spread today to at least four other towns in Texas, the state that prides itself as the seat of the cattle industry.

The rebellion was started by Mrs. R. D. Vaughn, a gray-haired 71-year-old grandmother who "hated to be robbed" in Dallas markets.

For the second straight day, she sat at her telephone masterminding a chain telephone campiagn to enlist women in a one-week meat boycott. In making their calls, the women asked other housewives to "please refrain from buying any fresh meat" during the week beginning Monday.

LEND A HAND—Twenty-two neighbors of Mrs. Donald Harding of Shenandoah postponed their own work yesterday to help her out. They're shown here as they harvested the wheat and oats on the Harding 100-acre farm. Mrs. Harding's husband died three weeks ago.

3 Listed For Draft Board

Enlistments Take A Rapid Jump

Recommended today as members of the new Richland county draft board were Thomas A. Woodard, 181 South Main street, W. E. Stough, Millsboro road, and Rev. D. Bruce Young, Shelby.

Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch, of the Richland county court of common pleas, made the recommendations to Maj. Chester C. Goble, Ohio selective service director, with the approval of Judge Stuart H. Cramer, of the Richland county probate court, and G. J. Kochenderfer, editor of the News-Journal, who, with Kalbfleisch, comprised the recommendations committee.

Woodard formerly served as a member of selective service board 2 during World War II. Stough served on board 3.

Draft registrations begin Aug. 30.

Meanwhile Mansfield recruiting offices were being deluged with enlistment applications from men 18 to 25.

Huge U. N. Loan Nears Approval

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The way was cleared today for final congressional approval of a bill granting the United Nations a $65,000,000 loan to build its headquarters in New York City.

The House foreign affairs committee met to act on the Senate-approved loan measure, and members indicated that objections to the bill within the committee had been withdrawn.

They're Real Neighbors

Shenandoah Farmers Harvest For Widow

By EILEEN DEWHURST

Yesterday Mrs. Donald Harding of Shenandoah found out the real meaning of the word "neighbor."

Three weeks ago her husband died at the age of 33 after a short illness. Monday morning 26 men arrived from surrounding farms to harvest the wheat and oats Mr. Harding had planted last spring on his 100-acre farm.

The men came dressed in overalls and driving their tractors and seven combines. Their wives and children came, too, and the wives brought home-made pies for the noon meal.

"This is a wonderful community and I have wonderful neighbors," Mrs. Harding said when she told how friends approached her soon after her husband's death and told her they would take care of the harvesting.

The men started working at 10 a. m. and by 4 p. m. they were finishing the job. At noon more than 50 men, women and children gathered on the front lawn to eat a hearty meal which the women served cafeteria style.

While the men worked, the women visited and made frequent trips to the fields with pails of lemonade.

"You think the world is in such a mess and then something like this happens and you find out who your real friends are," Mrs. Harding's mother remarked. "It makes you glad that you live in America."

Not only did the men pitch in to harvest the crops, but they had made arrangements to take the wheat and oats to Mansfield as soon as the harvesting was finished. While a few men finished up the last field, the first trucks were starting for the grain elevators.

The men who did the harvesting were Fred Harding, Carl Baker, Charles Fry, Walter Wilson, Charles Kirkwood, Hugh Kline, Wayne Hunter, Ed Blake, Frank Eastman, Ed Tennis, Leo McQuillian, Efflo McQuillian, Leo Huston, George Dick, Carl McQuate and his father, Fay Alexander, Floyd Alexander, Orval Huston, Ivin Hunter, Fred Cuppy, Dick Cuppy, Dick Harding, Wilson Taylor, James Bohn, Earl Sanders.

Richard Harding, Donald Harding's father, expressed the feeling of the family when he said, "I can't tell you how we appreciate this. These people are real neighbors and friends.

Searchers Fail To Find Plane

PARIS — (INS) — Air France announced today that it is grounding all seaplanes of the type that disappeared over the Atlantic Saturday with 52 persons on board.

Meanwhile, an air, sea, and submarine search failed to disclose any sign of the fate of the huge 73-ton, six engine, Latecoere 631 flying boat.

Eats Regular Prison Fare

Unknown Sender Gives Bible to Daniels

There was a gilt-edged Bible in the jail cell of Robert Murl Daniels today.

The 24-year-old prisoner, confessed slayer of the Mansfield Reformatory farm superintendent, his wife and 20-year-old daughter, received the Bible—a gift of some unknown sender—without comment.

Daniels, who with the late John C. West went on a two-week murder rampage through Ohio before being apprehended at a police-manned road block near Van Wert, occupies his cell in the women's section of the Richland county jail alone.

Side by side with the Bible, Daniels placed "Readers Digest," "Life" and "Holiday" magazines. Sheriff Frank E. Robinson gave Daniels the magazines.

The sheriff said Daniels has made no requests thus far. "He just sits and reads," Robinson said.

When he isn't reading, Daniels just sits and stares. He never starts a conversation with a guard but will answer any question in a normal tone.

Daniels seems to enjoy the prison meals. He eats everything and never berates the cooking, Robinson said. His food is the same as other prisoners." Today he had spaghetti and meat balls, bread and butter and coffee for lunch. The menu is changed daily.

He has received no mail except the Bible and a few pamphlets which came anonymously. Nor has he had any visitors except curiosity seekers, who were not permitted to see him.

When he gets tired of reading and staring, Daniels sleeps. "And he can really sleep," the sheriff says.

Ohio Lens Employes Protected

1,400 National Guards on Duty

DAYTON — (AP) — The Univis Lens company plant, where pickets battled police and non-strikers last week, reopened today under the protection of National Guard troops, tanks and guns.

The guardsmen exploded five tear-gas grenades to disperse a crowd of 75 strike sympathizers in front of a nearby tavern, but otherwise the scene was peaceful, with no renewal of previous rioting.

Non-striking employes poured into the plant on the 91st day of a strike called by the CIO United Electrical Workers, fighting to remain bargaining agent for approximately 658 employes at Univis.

More than 100 automobiles loaded with men and women had entered the gates between lines of guardsmen with fixed bayonets.

The National Guard force, numbering about 1,400 men, threw a cordon about the plant area, at first blockading road at points three miles from the plant.

A crowd of 300 strike sympathizers infiltrated the lines and reached a street curb opposite the plant. The guard went into action with a Sherman tank and machine gun carriers flanked by foot soldiers and drove the crowd two blocks back.

PICKETS QUIET

Not a sound came from six pickets stationed at the plant entrance, which was a scene of riotous disorder last week.

In contrast to last Friday's crowd of 10,000 spectators and sympathizers, only the six pickets, the guardsmen and a handful of newspaper men and photographers watched today's reopening of the plant, scene of a 91-day strike.

Arthur L. Garfield of New York, international representative of the srtiking CIO United Electrical Workers, appeared and told newsmen the union would observe a court's order limiting pickets to six.

The union yesterday had called on all Dayton unions to send pickets to the scene, but reversed its field after the Montgomery CIO council withdrew its support of the strike.

Gov. Thomas J. Herbert ordered the troops here "to maintain law and order" in a labor dispute he described as having a "communistic pattern."

Stalin Talks To Envoys

MOSCOW —(AP)— Prime Minister Stalin received three western power diplomats at the Kremlin last night and talked with them for more than two hours. The conversation concerned the prospects of settling east-west differences in Europe, particularly in Berlin.

There was no immediate announcement as to details of what they talked about but the diplomatic representatives of the United States, Great Britain and France emerged from the Kremlin shortly before midnight smiling and in good spirits. Correspondents took their affability and smiling demeanor as a good sign.

The meeting, which lasted two hours and 15 minutes, was the longest any foreign diplomats ever have had with the Russian leader.

After leaving the audience, at which Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov also was present, the three foreign diplomats immediately went into another conference, pounding up three flights of stairs at the American embassy without waiting for an elevator.

It was obvious the three—U.S. Ambassador Walter B. Smith, French Ambassador Yves Chataigneau and Frank Roberts, special British representative—were rushing to compare notes and prepare their reports on the conversation for transmission to Washington, Paris and London.

City Dollar Wise, Scent Foolish

CANTON — (INS) — Canton officially is in the garbage disposal business but the question is: "Who is going to pay for it?"

The city began disposing of its own garbage last Tuesday but three city councilmen last night blocked passage of a bill allocating $15,000 to pay for the initial cost of the city's new venture.

A motion to bring the appropriation bill up for a third reading and final vote was defeated when proponents of the measure were able to muster only 10 votes of a required 11.

Booster Club Set to Launch Big Drive

City-Wide Campaign Goal Set at 8,000

Preparations were underway in Mansfield today to launch the second phase of the Tyger Booster club's membership drive, aimed at consolidating active support of 8,000 Mansfielders behind the Tyger club school aid program.

The general membership campaign, tentatively scheduled for Aug. 11 to Aug. 18, has been designated as Tyger club, Bandwagon No. 2, the first bandwagon of special gifts having already rolled across its $5,000 goal line with $5,200 raised.

Preparations for the forthcoming general support drive were mapped last night at a meeting of Tyger club directors and organization and campaign workers in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

TWO MEETINGS SET

With general preparations under way, the group last night set up two meetings, one for representatives of Mansfield industries at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday and another for city geographic zone workers at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, both meetings to be held in the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce. At the meetings, the zone and industrial chairmen will be instructed on how to set up organizations which will have the objective of contacting every Mansfield citizen with a view to giving everyone an opportunity to join in the program.

Goal for the $1-or-more general support memberships is 8,000 members. Each chairman in the city-at-large zone campaign and in industries will recruit his own team of workers, so that when the whole organization is complete it is expected that approximately 500 workers will be participating in the campaign.

Aim of the Tyger club is to supply funds and civic support for school activities for which tax-raised money cannot be used. These activities include providing of special equipment tor the band, football team "extras," support of debate and music activities of school pupils, aid to good-citizenship programs in the schools and to develop and expand these activities to attract participation of more students, officials of the club explained.

Mansfield Days Offer Bargains

"Greater Mansfield Days," medium in nearly 100 retail stores for the display of special merchandise, will again take place Thursday and Friday of this week.

It will be the 23rd annual August sales sponsored here by the Mansfield Retail Merchants association.

All participating stores will display the red and white "Greater Mansfield Days" banners, V. H. Lodde, secretary of the association said today.

"We plan these special days," Lodde said. "to give shoppers from Mansfield and the area a chance to procure some worthwhile bargains. Usually the sales attract thousands of old shoppers to the city and a quota of new shoppers. We hope to do the same thing this year."

Hours at the majority of participating stores will be as usual —from 9:30 to 5:30 p. m.

NEWSMAN, 78, DIES

CHICAGO —(INS)— William L. Loughlin, 78, veteran Hearst editor and former chief operator of Universal service at Chicago, died early today of a heart attack while returning home from work.

Enters His Plea Friday

Jury Names Him On 3 Counts

Indicted late yesterday on three counts of first-degree murder in the brutal slayings of three members of the John E. Niebel family, Robert Murl Daniels today asked the court to name an attorney to defend him.

The grand jury returned the indictments Monday afternoon following one of the shortest grand jury sessions in the county in recent years. The jurors were in session less than five hours, hearing 13 cases.

Daniels will appear before the court at 9:30 a. m. Friday to enter his plea to the indictment. Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch then will announce details of the trial.

Daniels told the court shortly before noon today that he was unable to employ an attorney. Judge Kalbfleisch said he would name defense counsel today, selecting a Richland county attorney.

Daniels is accused of the brutal slaying of John E. Niebel, reformatory farm superintendent; his wife, Nolana, and their daughter, Phyllis, July 21.

Daniels, wearing green slacks and a yellow sport shirt, was taken into common pleas court at 10:30 a. m. today.

The 24-year-old defendant was taken to the common pleas courtroom by Sheriff Frank E. Robinson and two deputies. Assistant Prosecutor Claude F. Ewing represented the state.

NO PLEAS ASKED

Judge Kalbfleisch explained to Daniels that today's proceeding was not to inquire to his plea.

"We are concerned that you get a fair trial and that due processes of law are observed," the judge told Daniels

He explained to Daniels that he had been indicted on charges of first-degree murder on three counts.

"The charge is a serious one in which you may be acquitted or convicted and given the extreme penalty."

"Do you have an attorney?" the judge asked.

Daniels said, "No."

Then the judge asked: "Do you have the financial means to employ an attorney?"

Daniels again said no.

"I wish to know if you want to consult an attorney"

"Yes," Daniels said.

The judge then asked: "Have you talked with any attorney?"

Daniels said he had not.

Judge Kalbfleisch said he would appoint an attorney for Daniels and asked: "Have you any preference in the appointment of an attorney?"

WANTS COLUMBUS MAN

"I know one in Columbus I'd like to have," Daniels replied.

Judge Kalbfleisch then explained the attorney would have to be one from Richland county. He told Daniels he would notify him through the sheriff's office who his attorney would be.

The 15 grandjurors, recalled specifically for the Daniels case, also returned indictments against 11 other accused persons. None was involved in the Niebel slayings.

The first count on the murder indictment was for the slaying of John E. Niebel, 50, superintendent of the farm at the Mansfield reformatory.

The second count was for the

Questions Moral Right of Supreme Court Justice to Play Politics

If Felix Frankfurter had taken only the part that a Supreme Court justice normally takes in the social and intellectual life of Washington, there would be no interest in his influence on the character and the political direction of the American government, at home and abroad. No written requirement forbids a justice to do any of the things Frankfurter did. He had a right to plant his proteges, friends, stooges or political and ideological agents wherever he could.

He had a legal right to plant them in the war department where he finally did put in his old friend, Henry L. Stimson, as secretary at the age of 73, first jostling Harold Ickes and Frank Murphy out of the way. He had a right to stick in two more selected plants to assist Stimson and keep an eye on him.

He had a legal right to recommend and see to the placement of men who were, to his mind and for his purposes, valuable servants of the government in the state department and in the agencies which absolutely rule the radio industry under a policy saturated with communism.

He had this right, but such interference certainly was unusual and unbecoming. And, by the standards of many Americans, it was unethical.

Frankfurter was a judge up to his eyes in politics. He was pushing, shoving, elbowing into business that was no proper affair of any man sitting on the Supreme Court. Foreign relations were none of his business. War strategy was none of his business.

He was an intimate social friend and ideological comrade of Roosevelt and an avowed partisan of much of Roosevelt's violent philosophy of government, often expressed in riots approaching wild insurrection.

Roosevelt was, in the most practical sense, a litigant in many cases coming before the court. His opponents were not mere adversaries in legal proceedings but political and social devils. Frankfurter could call on the one litigant, Roosevelt, wheedle favors out of him on the pretext of public service, as in his selection of Stimson to be secretary of war, and accept his hospitality on yachting trips, a touch of high-life that few judges could afford.

But a litigant on the other side couldn't approach Frankfurter and an invitation to dinner, even without the company of the fast babes that others provided for their guests, would have been mighty like contempt of court.

Frankfurter was an old friend of Harold Laski, the English irritant who came over here to lecture at Harvard and, finally, after years of squirming on the issue of communism, was scotched in a lawsuit which was decisive. Laski denied that he was a communist. In this case, however, he tried to mulct an English paper for saying he had counseled or given countenance to the use of violence for the achievement of political purposes.

Laski lost, in the lack of any provable statement to the contrary by Frankfurter, it must be legally assumed that he does not think alike with his friend, Laski, in that particular. In broad political terms, however, they seem to have much in common. Laski's program has now reduced the British to hunger and tatters.

Atomic Age Youth Makes Writer Nervous at Prospects of Future

NEW YORK—(AP)—The younger generation makes me nervous.

It's too radio-active.

Every generation tends to think the next one is going to the dogs or the devil. But the one coming up isn't going to either. It's going to science. And that gives me the willies.

The reluctant schoolboy of yore, full of callow puppy love and fear of the adult world, is as out-of-date as a Currier and Ives print. Today each schoolboy is his own Marco Polo and stuffed with a terrible sophistication.

Any superiority I ever felt over the younger generation was dissipated by reading of the exploit of the two Oklahoma kids who took a successful joyride in an airplane. Their teacher: a comics book.

And their age I was trying to learn how to swim and wondering how to make a sound like an eagle. I wanted to be a member of the Eagle patrol, and the Boy Scout's handbook said an eagle went "kree!" But when I said "kree," it didn't sound much like an eagle to me. And when I went to the zoo to check with an eagle, it wouldn't say "kree" or anything else.

What a simple, bare-footed world youth lived in then—only 25 years ago. It was some fun to paint signs like "Oh, You Kid" on your slickers. The high school hero was the boy who could repair a broken down jalopy, rescued from a junkyard, and make it run.

And today? Well, out in El Cerrito, Calif., four high school boys have built the 25th cyclotron ever constructed in the United States. The magazine, "Physics Today," estimates that before the war it cost $50,000 to build one of these atom-smashers. The four California high school boys put their gadget together for $600. And it has a million-electron-volt output, whatever that means.

Somehow this feat, a startling example of juvenile ingenuity, leaves me feeling chilly and grown old. For it raises anew intense forebodings about that machine-age tomorrow toward which we are hurtling so fast.

This whole business of atoms, cyclotrons, and fissionable materials goes over my head like an airplane passing high above a savage in Brazil.

The world is whirring forward so fast I feel lost in it. I was born at a time when horses were still earning their oats by pulling wagons, and the radio was something ships used chiefly to signal for help when they were sinking.

They taught me the theory of the gasoline engine, and now bombers flit by on jet-propelled wings, and somehow I just can't get through my mind exactly what a jet is. Sure, I finally figured out vitamins. But why, just when I learn to spell penicillin, do I have to learn how to pronounce streptomycin?

I have never had much faith in the machine age, and as the years pass, I have even less. How can you have faith in anything that won't stand still?

Madly, madly, the gears grind faster, and on and on we go—uneasy passengers to where?

Ah, wilderness! I think I'll buy a chemistry set and start all over.

Bonham Given Top Amvet Post

Officers to Take Over Aug. 16

Robert Bonham was elected commander of the Amvets last night, succeeding Louis Doerr, who has headed the post for the past year.

Others chosen as officers were: Robert Miller, first vice-commander; Robert Sneeringer, second vice-commander; John Lanzen, third vice-commander; Paul Ringer, financial officer; C. J. Kalbfleisch, judge advocate, and John Precup, provost marshal.

Elected to the executive board were Harold Lersch, Richard Underwood, Stanton Fox, Glenn Hoffman, and Warren Gross.

INSTALL AUG. 16

All officers and executive board members will be installed Aug. 16 with Fred Stanton, Ohio commander of the Amvets, as installing officer.

Bonham was chosen as the delegate to the national convention which meets in Chicago Sept. 1 to 6, and Edwin Boone was elected as alternate. The national meeting will be preceded by the Sad Sacks conference, Aug. 30 and 31.

Members last night also voted a contribution to the Tygers Booster club and the "Frank McCaslin for national commander" campaign. McCaslin is the immediate past-commander of the Ohio Amvets.

Bridge Jobs Approved

Authorization to replace a culvert on the Bowman street road and to make repairs to two bridges west of the Pavonia-North road at a total cost of $1,026 was voted yesterday by Richland county commissioners.

Authorization was directed to County Engineer Walter E. Rusk, whose maintenance and repair crews will do the work. Money for the projects will be taken from auto license and gasoline funds.

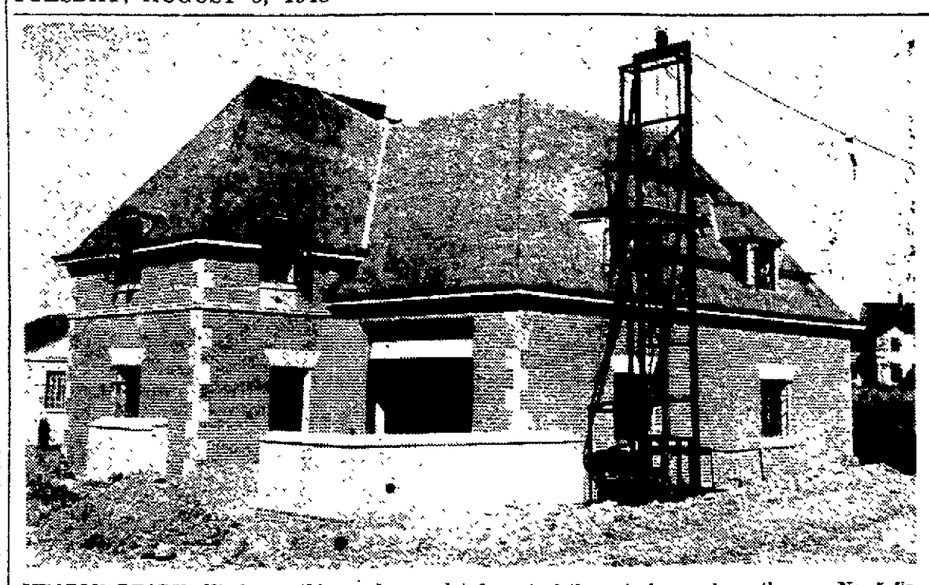
The culvert, near the Barnes and Bloom farms, will be replaced with a new 42-inch concrete pipe culvert. Materials for the job will be bought from the Voegele Bros. of Mansfield. Cost is estimated at $306.

Bridges to be repaired include one on the Charles road and another on the Amoy-Pavonia road. Commissioners said the Charles road bridge would be supplied with new concrete underpinning on the south end of the stream floor and two cut-off walls. The Amoy-Pavonia bridge will get a concrete floor over the entire structure and two cut-off walls. Cost of repairs to the bridges is estimated at $720.

Firemen Make Run To Rubber Plant

Firemen from companies, 1, 2 and 4 answered a false alarm at 6:22 a. m. today at the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company where, firemen said, an alarm box was accidentally bumped, setting it off.

At 2:45 p. m. yesterday Central station men went to Marion and Davey avenues where an auto, belonging to Jules Glattke, 477 Davey avenue, had backfired into the carburetor. Firemen said no damage was caused.



NEARLY READY—Workmen this week completed most of the exterior work on the new No. 5 fire station on Marion avenue between Cline avenue and Woodhill road, but a great deal of interior construction remains to be finished. L. J. Steele, fire chief, said he hoped the new building would be ready for occupancy by the middle of September. Work yet to be completed includes plastering, finishing of floors and installation of the heating plant.

Youths On Probation

Young Shoplifters Get Court Warning

Three Crestline teen-agers confessed yesterday in juvenile court to engaging in a shop-lifting spree in Shelby Saturday, which netted them $21.56 worth of merchandise.

The three, one of them 11 and the others 10 years old, were put on probation until school starts to E. F. Talbott, chief probation officer of the Crawford county juvenile court. They are to report weekly to him.

They were ordered to be home at 7 p. m. daily until school starts. Final disposition of the case depends on how they behave during their probationary period, Judge Stuart H. Cramer said.

Their parents were warned and instructed to return the goods or pay for what can't be returned. The boys shoplifted in six stores, taking baseballs, cigarets, a glove and bathing trunks.

A 17-year-old Mansfield youth, accused of accepting stolen property, a bicycle and parts, was placed on probation for two years. The equipment was received from two other teen-agers who had operated a "small-time" bicycle theft ring, juvenile authorities said.

A 14-year-old Shelby boy was held in the juvenile detention home for juvenile court. He is accused of breaking into the home of James Keller, Second avenue, Shelby.

He said he was looking for cigarets. Nothing was missing from the home.

A. J. Pfeifer Passes at Home

Andrew P. Pfeifer, 75, died suddenly at his home, 497 Springmill street, Monday afternoon. Although Mr. Pfeifer had been in ill health for some time, his death was unexpected.

Born Dec. 5, 1872 in Washington township, Mr. Pfeifer had spent his entire life in this vicinity.

Surviving are his wife, Emma B. Pfeifer; two sons, George Pfeifer at home and Edward of Springfield township; one daughter, Mrs. H. W. Fleck of Washington township; one sister, Mrs. Lovina Touby; four grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Wappner funeral home where services will be held Thursday at 1:30 p. m. in charge of Rev. John C. Melchert, pastor of the St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

William S. Belt Dies In Hospital

William Silas Belt, 54, of 398 Buffalo street, died Monday afternoon at the Crile Veterans' hospital, Cleveland, after a six-week illness.

Born in Munday, W. Va., June 2, 1894, Mr. Belt came to Mansfield two years ago and was employed at the Empire Steel corporation prior to his illness. He was a veteran of World War 1.

He is survived by his wife, Bonnie; one son, Ovalyn C. Belt; his mother, Mrs. Rebecca Belt, of Munday; two brothers, Forest, of Mansfield, and Harley, of Munday.

The body is at the Geiger funeral home, where arrangements are incomplete.

Members of the Ohio Pardon and Parole Board were scheduled to wind up hearings on 190 institution and honor camp cases today at the Mansfield reformatory.

Reformatory officials said the cases include 125 at the Mansfield reformatory, 40 at Grafton honor camp and 25 at Sandusky honor camp.

Auto Stolen

E. A. Baxter, Mansfield, R. D. 4, reported to police yesterday that an auto valued at $400 was stolen from the rear of 294 East Third street during the week end.

Chorus to Sing In Madison Theater

Helping hands were extended to the Mastersingers today in their efforts to raise funds to finance their appearance at Lake Chautauqua, N. Y., for a concert engagement on Aug. 28 and 29.

The Madison theater has been made available for the presentation of a "Chautauqua Premiere" on Aug. 25, proceeds from which are to help finance the expensive Chautauqua trip.

In addition, financial aid was pledged to help swell the Chautauqua fund.

Because of the availability of the Madison theater and the promised financial aid, the Mastersingers last night voted to set an admission charge of only $1.50 for the "premiere" tickets instead of $3, earlier fixed as the price to help meet expenses.

The theater was obtained for the Aug. 25 concert through the courtesy of the theater management in cooperation with the Robert P. Spreng post, Amvets, and trustees of the Memorial building.

C. OF C. OFFERS AID

The financial aid was pledged by directors of the Chamber of Commerce who have instituted a fund raising program among members as their support for one of Mansfield's cultural and civic groups.

With this assistance assured, the Mastersingers last night made plans for the ticket sale.

Tickets were distributed among members and they may also be obtained at the Chamber of Commerce office. Mastersingers reported last night that many already have been sold.

Mrs. Olivieri Dies at 52

Mrs. Domenica Olivieri, 52, wife of Joseph Olivieri, died this morning at General hospital after an illness of five months.

Born May 3, 1896 in Roccascaligna, Italy, Mrs. Olivieri came to Mansfield 21 years ago. She was a member of the St. Peter's Catholic church.

Surviving, besides her husband, are one son, Nick, three daughters, Mary, Lucy and Rose, all at home; two brothers, Nick Travagline of Italy and John of Conshohocken, Pa.; four sisters, Mrs. Angelica Zinni and Mrs. Concetta Zinni, both of Italy, Mrs. Camillo Olivieri of Mansfield and Rosaria of Conshohocken.

Friends may call at the family home, 208 Central avenue, after noon Wednesday. The body is at the Geiger funeral home at the present time where arrangements are incomplete.

Vets Name Delegates

More than 300 Mansfield members of the American Legion and Disabled American Veterans plan to go to state conventions of the organizations in Columbus and Cleveland next week end.

The Legion convention will open in Columbus Saturday and continue through Monday. The Amvets will meet Friday in Cleveland and close their sessions Sunday.

Approximately 250 members of the Earle D. McVey post No. 16 and the McVey Auxiliary are expected to attend the American Legion convention in Columbus and will set up their headquarters in the Neil house.

More than 50 members of the Mansfield 40 et 8 club will attend the convention and will parade through Columbus Saturday evening. The American Legion parade will be held Sunday.

Mansfield chapter No. 21, Disabled American Veterans, last night appointed 11 members to attend the DAV convention in Cleveland.

The delegates from the local chapter are Gene Sutton, commander; Lawrence Powell, Robert O'Leary, Harry Mapes, Richard Snyder, Mike Mlay, Walter Bogantz, John Steele, Carl Mapes and Herschel Mapes.

Barnes Workers To Hold Outing

A joint picnic of the Barnes Manufacturing company and Roget Castings, Inc., will be held tomorrow at North lake park with Marshall Seybold as general chairman.

The picnic has been planned for employes and their families and 600 are expected to attend, Seybold said.

A full afternoon's program of events has been scheduled, beginning with lunch at 1 p. m., followed by games, boating, horseshoe pitching, movies, ball games and pony rides for the children.

Twelve grand prizes will be awarded at 5:15 p. m., closing the event.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY—

Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch is receiving congratulations on his birthday today.

Judge Kalbfleisch was born in Piqua and came to Mansfield in 1914. He has been engaged in legal work since his graduation from Ohio Northern university in 1923. From 1929 to 1932 he was county prosecuting attorney. He has held his present post since 1944. Prior to that he was municipal court judge.

Kalbfleisch

He is a member of the American Legion, Masonic order, Eagles lodge, Amima club, and University club. His hobbies are hunting and flower gardening.

Judge Kalbfleisch is married and lives at 495 Chevy Chase road.

The News-Journal also extends congratulations to J. F. Orr, owner and manager of the Orr Typewriter and Office Supply company, who today reaches the half century mark. He will be feted by his family tonight at dinner "out," then enjoy a sail at the Mohican Sailing club with friends.

★

CUPID'S POPULAR—

July is crowding June as a month of marriages in Richland county, the records show. Last month 84 couples obtained licenses in probate court, setting a new high for July. June still tops the list with 104 licenses issued in the county. In the war year of 1944, only 29 couples obtained licences to wed in July. Buy 1946 the number had jumped to 91.

DOGGY PROTECTION—

The flow of noon traffic in and out of the post office was slowed a bit the other day while customers watched the behavior of two young dogs just outside the revolving door. Only a minute before, the young masters had gone through the spinning door with a large parcel. The larger dog, having a striking resemblance to a shepard, stopped and shied back from the door. A smaller companion, however, attempted to go headlong into the door everytime an opening swung past. As the pup would make a start for the door the larger dog would fling his head sidewise, gently but firmly pushing his smaller pal back from the revolving door. This went on for a full three minutes before the boys appeared at the side door of the post office and whistled for their pets.

Former Inmate Accused

Grand Jury Names 13

The Richland county grand jury late yesterday returned 13 indictments, including one against Virgil Chaney, 29, of Mansfield, R. D. 2, charging he conveyed articles into the county jail to aid in the escape.

The indictments were returned by the grand jury, convened to hear the case against Robert Murl Daniels, 24, of Columbus, whom they indicted on three counts of first-degree murder.

Defendants named in the indictments will be arraigned before Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch Friday at 10 a. m. Daniels will be arraigned Friday at 9:30 a. m.

The jurors during their all-day session heard 21 witnesses testify. Prosecutor Theodore Lutz presented 12 cases and received an indictment in each case.

Chaney is accused of taking six hack-saw blades to the jail on June 12, the day he was released after serving a short sentence. The indictment charges he attempted to aid the escape of persons accused of felonies.

ESCAPE THWARTED

Prisoners had sawed through an inner set of bars at the jail, reaching the east third-tier window before deputies discovered the escape attempt. They had just started working on the bars of that window. The blades were smuggled into the jail by a wire dropped by prisoners, deputies said.

The grand jurors returned armed robbery indictments against Johnny Clifton Hargrove, 18, of 819 Bowman street, and Sylvester Thomas, 18, of Louisville. They are accused in the $70 hold-up of the Wellborn grocery, on Hedges street, May 10.

Four men were indicted on breaking and entering charges. They were: Paul Rich, 36, formerly of 118 South Diamond street, charged in the $129 burglary of the Bethel Stadium diner on June 15; Paul R. Lyons, Mt. Vernon, accused in the $351 burglary of the home of Miss Ida Myers, of Bellville; Torrence Jefferson Freeman, 9 John Long avenue, and John Berger jr., Lucas, both charged in the burglary of the Clyde Adams gun shop, 534 Bowman street, where guns and cartridges, valued at $360, were taken.

CHARGED IN CYCLE THEFT

Other indictments included:

Donald Means, 19, of 120 Pleasant avenue, charged with operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent. He is accused of taking a motorcycle.

Charles E. Hutchason, 37, of Baltimore, accused of grand larceny in the theft of $130 from the home of Floyd Myers, 67 Mendota street.

Robert Phillips, 20, of Tiffin, accused of operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent.

Farrell Dee Sublett, 31, Avalon hotel, charged with carrying concealed weapons.

Praises Work Of Hospital

Mansfield Exchange club members were urged to appreciate their General hospital at a noon luncheon meeting Monday at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Wayne Copeland, new General hospital superintendent, told the Exchange members to be proud of the organization and efficiency of "your hospital."

Copeland sommended the Mansfield doctors at the hospital. "You have a high calibre type of physicians, surgeons and specialists who give exceptional treatment to the patients who are admitted to the hospital," he said.

"Their work is efficient and I was quite impressed with the hospital and staff when I accepted my position a month ago. The general hospital has only one thing to conceal from the general public and that is the diagnosis of a patient's case."

Donald Ogden, Exchange club vice-president, presided, and Dr. C. H. Bell served as program chairman at the meeting.

Officials Stamp OK on New Location of State Route 13

Formal approval on the re-location of State Route 13 around the east end of the airport was given yesterday in a special hearing, attended by Ashland highway division officials, county commissioners, and city and county engineers.

Transcript of the testimony at the courthouse hearing was forwarded to State Director of Highways Earl Reeb for final approval.

No objections were voiced to placing the relocation right-of-way on the state system. The route formerly cut through the airport site.

The date for asking bids for the new highway section around the east side of Mansfield airport will be no later than the first week in October. County Engineer Walter E. Rusk said the county had asked that the date be set a month earlier.

Attending the meeting were C. Homer Bricker, engineer of Division 3 of state highway department, Ashland; Albert Vonderheidt, right-of-way engineer at the Ashland office; county commissioners, County Engineer Rusk and City Engineer W. C. Statler.

Three Mansfield Teams In Joust Tonight

Will Hank Don Tribal Flannels?

By ADE PONIKVAR
INS Sports Writer

CLEVELAND — Hank Greenberg, who became a major stockholder of the Cleveland Indians last spring, doesn't see much chance of ever playing active baseball again.

"Of course," the former major league homerun king continues, "that's the way the outlook is today. No one knows what will happen in the future."

CARRIES TITLE

Hank carries the auspicious title of second vice-president with the Tribe organization but, as he says, "Don't tell other people what I'm doing or else they'll all be after my job."

But the handsome six-foot 3½-inch Greenberg, who expects a second addition to his family in about a month and a half, is being downright modest about his doings in the Cleveland wigwam.

He still dons a Tribe uniform and works out with the team before games "because I get a kick out of working out and that's a good way to keep in shape."

Hankus Pankus won't admit that he's staying in shape only to fill his seat in the Tribe's front office, where, he adds, he's learning "the business end of the game."

The former Detroit and Pittsburgh power hitter is lending his oratorical prowess to the banquet circuit where he is doing a bang-up job of selling the Indians to fans all over Ohio.

The Tribe's difficulties with the first base position this summer turned many a quizzical eye on the big and genial vice president, who was called first-base "insurance" when he joined the owner's circle.

DON'T SEE HOW

Hank simply answers:

"I don't see how it is possible when I'm not even on the active player list."

However, the injury to Outfielder Hank Edwards in Sunday's twin bill with the Boston Red Sox left an opening on the Tribe roster and the same questioning eyes once again are lighting on Greenberg.

There also was some talk that Greenberg would fill in as coach with the Tribe's million-dollar "brain-trust." But that possibility seems to be only small talk now in view of the more than capable coaching the Indians have had this season.

LIKES IT HERE

"Tell the folks I'm enjoying the game from up here," Hank says from his kibitzer's seat in the press box, where he and Prexy Bill Veeck second-guess the calling of the plate umpire.

As for who is going to win the pennant, Greenberg declares:

"It's a four-team race and anybody can win it."

Greenberg's wife, the former Caral Gimbel of the department-store Gimbels, currently is living in Greenwich, Conn. Hank is sizing-up housing conditions in Cleveland at present, preparatory to moving his family to the Sixth City for a permanent home.

Satchel Paige Named Starter

CLEVELAND — (UP) — The venerable Satchel Paige will make his first appearance as a big league starting pitcher here tonight when he opens for the Cleveland Indians against the Washington Senators.

Paige has won one game and lost one in his brief career with the Indians this year, but they were both as the result of relief assignments.

Starting pitcher for the Senators will be Early Wynn, who has won seven and lost 11 games this year. Cleveland is only .005 percentage points and one game behind the league leading Philadelphia Athletics.

Toledo Amateur Opens

TOLEDO — (INS) — Some 150 northwestern Ohio amateur golfers, including four former champions, tee off today in the 18-hole qualifier for the Toledo district Amateur championship.

Penn Auto, Komito's To Tangle

BUCYRUS — At least one of Mansfield seven remaining entries will be cut from the district softball tournament in the three games slated here tonight.

The Ashland Indians will meet W and W Provision of Marion in the 7:15 opener but from then on it will be Mansfield's show.

Komito's Clothes, leaders of the Independent league, who drew a first round bye will tangle with Penn Auto-Sporting Goods at 8:30 p. m. Penn Auto edged Bucyrus Lone Pine 7-6 in his first start last week to stay in the running.

FINAL GAME

The final game of the night will feature the first appearance of Mansfield Gorman-Rupp, one of the favorites of the joust, with Weaver Market of Mt. Gilead as the opposition.

Three more Mansfield teams will swing into action tomorrow night. Mansfield AC, last team to make its appearance, will meet Perfection Steel of Galion at 7:15. Farm Tools, a local team which is rated a good chance to survive, will meet the Bucyrus Lions in the second game while Mansfield VFW and Budd's Sports of Upper Sandusky will round out the program.

Quarter finals will begin Thursday.

SHELBY WINS

Shelby VFW walloped Ashland Garber's Printers, 6-3, last night while Mt. Vernon won the girls' district title with a 6-2 victory over defending champion Smitty's Maids of Marion. The girls game went eight innings before Mt. Vernon pushed over four tallies to win.

Komito's has asked their players to meet at 7 p. m. tonight at Stone Grill.

* * *

Gorman-Rupp moved to within one victory of the North Central Ohio Inter-City league pennant last night by defeating Mt Vernon Stone's Grill, 2-1, here.

The Mansfielders will have an opportunity to clinch the flag Friday night when they entertain the Ashland Indians at Gorman-Rupp field. The game will be the last on the regular schedule.

PLAY WILLARD

However, should Gorman-Rupp lose, they will play off an early season tie game with Willard to complete the schedule. A defeat in both tilts would tie Gorman-Rupp and the Indians. Ashland, meanwhile has a Wednesday night game with Tiffin but should have little trouble beating the cellar-dwellers.

Gorman-Rupp now has a 15-3 won and lost record against Ashland's 13-5.

AS RECORD FELL—America soars to a seemingly unassailable point score lead of 147 in the 1948 Olympic games in Wembley stadium, London, as brilliant Mal Whitfield (136), Negro GI at Ohio State university under the GI Bill of Rights, wins a sensational victory in the 800-meter finals. He set an Olympic record of 1:49.2. The pace was so searing that Arthur Wint (122), gigantic Jamaican who ran second, also broke the record, and Marcel Hansenne (151) of France, third, equalled the old mark of 1:49.8.—(International Radiophoto)

American Olympic Team Wins Eighth Gold Medal

By DAVIS J. WALSH

LONDON—((INS)—The United States won its eighth gold medal of the 14th Olympiad today in a clean-sweep victory of the women's springboard diving.

The one-two-three American finish repeated the pattern of the men's springboard diving final Saturday.

Victoria Menaolo Draves, a pretty Los Angeles brunette, won the Olympic victory at the Wembley pool.

WINS SECOND

Second place went to 17-year-old Zoe Ann Olsen of Oakland, Cal., who was an American national champion at 14, and third place was won by Patricia Elsener of San Francisco, a year older than Zoe Ann.

Mrs. Draves scored a total of 108.74 points. The pretty blonde Zoe Ann was given 108.23, and Miss Elsener, 101.30.

The sweep of the women's dive boosted the United States point total to 195, more than treble the score of runner-up Sweden.

Meanwhile, the fourth day of track and field endeavor was strictly from apathy.

IN TRADITION

Only the 200-meter semi-finals and finals are in keeping with the Olympic tradition, the remainder of the agenda calling for the following: 10,000-meter walking heats, hop, step, and jump trials and finals; same sequence in the shot-put and the 80-meter hurdles for women.

The first break in America's flat-race successes probably is due in the 200-meter final where Herb McKenley's two successive 21.3 triumphs were better than anyone else's save Cliff Bourland's.

Bourland is not expected to better a flat 21 which may be necessary to stop McKenley. Mel Patton, who did 20.7 in winning the U S. Olympic trials was a second slower yesterday. It is difficult to estimate what Patton will do today.

STOP M'KENLEY

Barney Ewell was second to McKenley yesterday in the qualifying heats. Ewell first decided to hold off the Jamaican's stretch drive but then gave up. It looked as if he wouldn't have made it anyhow

McKenley still is regarded as a favorite to win the 400-meters, although he is not so intense a choice following Mal Whitfield's record 1:49 2 in the 800.

In the first place, McKenley, who will be going into four 400's after racing four 200's, doesn't "repeat" as well as he might. And Whitfield does.

In the second place, Whitfield showed tremendous racing savvy in the 800, the kind of savvy that might beat anybody, anytime.

Tomorrow Last Day For Ballots

Balloting for Mansfield softball league all-star team will end tomorrow at midnight.

The teams picked by local softball fans will participate in the annual "amateur week" which is listed to start Aug. 9 under the lights at the Gorman-Rupp field. Five nights of softball will be jammed into the program with the proceeds going into the fund to purchase trophies for the champions of each of the six leagues.

VOTES POURING IN

Votes have been steadily pouring into the News-Journal, clearing house for all ballots. The fans are picking the teams from all of the men's leagues, while team managers select the girls' all-star squad.

Selections will be announced Friday.

Teams from the three Class A leagues — Independent, Industrial and Club—will feature the competition. The trio will draw for opponents. Two of them will open "amateur week" Monday with the third going against an outside team, possibly Gorman - Rupp, Tuesday.

MEET FRIDAY

Winner of Monday's game will meet the third team in Friday's finale. Two teams from the Hot Stove Elementary Baseball league will meet in the prelim.

Church and Park league all-star teams will collide Wednesday with the girls' aggregation in the spotlight Thursday. The gals will meet an out-of-town team.

NEW ATLAS Grip Safe TIRES

at STANDARD OIL STATIONS

It's the best tire ATLAS has ever built . . . it's the new, safer, longer mileage tire that will give you your money's worth . . . down to the last penny . . . it's the great, new, long-service tire you've been looking for! And the wide, flat, deep tread makes the big difference. This tread actually gives you more rubber on the road . . . it gives you greater safety because of its wide, sure-footed traction . . . it gives you longer wear because the wide, flat, 7-ribbed tread spreads the load and the wear evenly . . . it gives you greater comfort, a quieter ride because of the cushioning action of the increased number of tread ribs.

IT'S WIDER!

For Mileage and Safety. No doubt about it . . . more rubber on the road spreads the wear! More rubber on the road makes the rubber last . . . gives greater gripping surface!

IT'S FLATTER!

For Mileage and Safety. Stands to reason . . . entire width of tread shares the wear evenly. This eliminates "spot wear". . . gives you many more miles for your money and safer miles, too!

IT'S COOLER!

For Mileage and Safety. This cooler-running tread design gives you greater blow-out protection. And the famous Atlas Grip-Safe anti-skid features are all retained!

10,000 Attend Memorial Service For Blast Dead

LUDWIGSHAGEN, GERMANY —(AP)—This Rhine city Monday mourned the victims of the Farben chemical plant explosion at Memorial services attended by approximetely 10,000 weeping relatives and friends.

The known death toll rose to 180. Rescue workers continued to toil through the wreckage.

Gen. Pierro Koenig, French zone military governor, was accomcompanied at the ceremony by United States, British, Russian, Yugoslav, Belgian, Dutch and other military representatives.

Referring to the victims, Koenig said:

"They were soldiers who died—soldiers of work."

Koenig delivered his address in German and again in French.

Peter Altmeier, minister-president (governor) of Rhineland Phaltz, praised the rescue efforts of German workers and French and American soldiers in the fire that followed Wednesday's explosion.

"The German people will never forget the brave help of the American and French troops," he said.

The ceremony centered around a cross 12-feet high in the center of the city's main square.

A Farben plant director, referring to rumors that the plant had been making volatile fluid for V-weapons, told the gathering:

"It is necessary to state that these workers were not killed by any war product."

Wild Ride Costs Life

TROY — (UP) — A wild automobile ride ended in a tragedy early today with one man drowned, another passenger arrested for drunkenness, and the driver being charged with manslaughter and driving when intoxicated.

Richard Cress, 24, Troy, drowned when the car in which he and two companions were riding overturned into a water-filled ditch.

Robert Alonzo Russell, 18, Troy, the driver, was treated for cuts and bruises and faces a manslaughter charge.

Charles Hughes, 23, also of Troy, was treated for bruises and charged with drunkenness.

Police said the accident happened in downtown Troy when Russell's auto left the road and overturned into the ditch.

Willard Garage To Change Hands

WILLARD — Myles S. Burras of North Fairfield is the new owner of the Willard Buick-Pontiac garage. Frank Landefeld, former owner, announced the sale and said that Burras will take possession this week.

Burras, who has been a partner in the Underwood & Burras garage in North Fairfield for the past four years, has signed a new contract with General Motors to handle Buick and Pontiac cars and announces that orders already on the books will be filled as cars are received.

Elect Delegates To DAV Confab

CRESTLINE — Three delegates from Crestline's Disabled American Veterans post have been elected to attend the three-day 27th annual convention of the Ohio State D. A. V. convention in Cleveland, opening Friday.

Roy Payne, Frank Auer and Josephine Bender are the Crestline delegates.

Mayor Thomas Burke will welcome the delegates at the Friday afternoon session. Gov. Thomas Herbert and other state officials are expected to address the convention.

Divorce Rate Down

MILLERSBURG — Thirty-seven divorce cases were heard here in common pleas court during the past year leaving ten still pending, the annual report of Holmes County Clerk of Courts Mrs. Isha M. Manly, reveals. Fifteen fewer divorces were filed during the year ending June 30, 1948, than the previous year. An additional 42 divorce cases were filed during the year, making a total of 53. During the previous year there were 41 couples who obtained decrees.

Hike Election Pay

MILLERSBURG — Holmes County precinct election officials will receive an increase in pay for their services. Authority for it was provided at the last general session of the Ohio legislature. The increase in pay will be effective at the November election. Presiding judges will be raised from $10 to $12 per day. Judges and clerks will receive $10 a day as compared to $8 in the past. The maximum they could receive is $12 per day.

SUES FOR $50,000

ASHLAND — Damages of $50,000 are sought in an action filed in common pleas court here by Mary E. Garberich, Crestline, against Thelma V. Latimer, Ashland R. D. 3, for injuries sustained in an auto accident.

Oil to Net Billion In Six Months

Profits Are Up Over 80 Per Cent

By ALFRED F. CONNORS

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—Net profits of the oil industry for the first half of 1948 will top $1,000,000,000, highest half-year earnings in the industry's history and approximately 82 per cent higher than in the first half of last year, a study by the United Press of the semi-annual reports of the nation's leading oil companies revealed today.

Twenty-seven leading oil companies already have reported net earnings of $776,307,740 for the initial half of this year, an increase of $348,203,219, of 82 per cent, over the $428,104,521 reported for the first half of 1947.

Seven other oil firms, including the Texas company whose earnings in the first half of 1947 were second only to those of Standard Oil company (New Jersey), earned a net of $130,831,807 in the opening six months of 1947 but have not yet reported 1948 half year income.

If the rate of improvement shown by the 27 reporting companies carries through to the other seven, their net income for the half year will approximate $238,112,000.

UP 206 PER CENT

Percentage improvements ranged all the way from 206 per cent for Superior Oil company, (California)) to 28 per cent for deep rock oil corporation. Eleven of the 27 reporting firms more than doubled their earnings of the 1947 half while 15 showed improvements of 90 per cent or more.

Standard Oil company (New Jersey), the largest industrial organization in the country, maintained its position of preeminence in the opening half, topping not only all the oil companies in earnings but every other industrial organization as well.

Jersey Standard, whose half-year figure is always an estimate, said its net for the opening six months of this year would approximate $210,000,000, a gain of 50 per cent over the $140,000,000 reported for the opening half of last year. Estimate earning for 1948 half-year are equivalent to $7.50 a capital share, compared with $5.12 a share in the corresponding 1947 period.

Second largest first-half oil earnings were reported by Standard Oil Company of California whose net of $77,611,483, or $5.97 a share was 90 per cent higher than the $40,808,200 or $3.14 a share this firm reported in the corresponding half of last year.

Closely pressing California Standard was Gulf Oil corporation with an improvement of 81 per cent to $77,100,000, or $6.80 a share, from $42,500,000 in last year's half. The fourth company to top the $70,000,000 mark was Socony-Vacuum oil which had a net of $71,000,000 or $2.28 a share, up 74 per cent from the $40,900,000 or $1.31 a share reported in the 1947 period.

Shell Union Oil corporation doubled its 1947 first half net, report in net income of $55,861,176 or $4.15 a share, a gain of 139 per cent.

In World's Toughest Job

'Auntie' Opposes Reds as Berlin Mayor

By JOHN N. MARTIN, INS Foreign Editor

"Auntie" Schroeder, a gentle 61-year-old woman, today holds one of the toughest jobs in the world—acting mayor of Berlin.

Despite her meek appearance Louise Schroeder has shown courage in opposing the Russians in their daily maneuvering aimed at capturing all Berlin and forcing a western retreat.

The lady mayor has won an admiring following throughout Germany as well as among allied officials. Even the Russians once voiced their respect but this was before she called their bluff.

Maj. Gen. Alexander Kotikov, Soviet commander in Berlin recently ordered her to revoke the city council's decision suspending communist-trained Paul Markgraf as police chief.

In a crisp letter "Auntie" told Kotikov he was trying to violate four-power agreements and that next time he should consult her before issuing such orders.

Louise Schroeder stumbled into the job of mayor 15 months ago during a lesser east-west quarrel before the Russians began their siege of Berlin.

This correspondent talked with her just before this happened. She stressed her original love and a problem at the top of the complex German issue. That is social welfare work, which she has been doing since the age of 23, when she joined the social democratic party.

Frau Schroeder, who is without a family except for numerous nieces and nephews, lives in one sublet room in ruined Berlin.

More than a year ago Mayor Otto Ostrowski, a social democrat, resigned after his party accused him of underhanded friendliness with the communists.

Ernst Reuter, fellow party member, was named mayor of Berlin, but Russia vetoed him. Frau Schroeder, one of the deputy mayors, reluctantly was forced in as acting mayor.

"She has administered Berlin efficiently ever since, displaying a skill gained from years of political life which Hitler only temporarily checked.

"Auntie" Schroeder, also known as "Mother of Berlin," is not a native Berliner. She was born in a Hamburg Suburb.

In 1919, after the first World war wreckage, she was elected to the German national assembly at Weimar. She kept being elected to successive Reichstags until her party was suppressed by Hitler in 1933.

She escaped with her life because she was a woman, and this was before the Nazis extended their ruthlessness to women.

She did odd jobs in grocery stores—always under Nazi police watch in Hamburg.

She was returned to Berlin and was lucky to get a private social welfare job just before the second World War exploded and western bombs wiped out her meager possessions twice.

The little woman with horn-rimmed glasses, silver hair and wrinkled face, returned to the scene as a vigorous social democrat when the party was revived in 1945.

Atom Scientists, Suspended In Loyalty Check, Back on Job

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. — (UP) — Two atomic scientists who were suspended during a loyalty check here last May have been "cleared" and are back at work.

B. W. Menke, chief of security for the atomic energy commission, said the scientists returned to work "some weeks ago." He said there have been no other suspensions although loyalty hearings have continued.

Suspension of the two unidentified scientists brought indignant protests by the Association of Oak Ridge Engineers and Scientists that their constitutional rights were being violated.

The association complained particularly that accused scientists were not allowed to face their accusers or to learn the nature of the charges against them.

Menke said today hearings of the same type given the two accused scientists were still going on here. The scientist is brought before a hearing board composed of representatives of the A-E-C, a person with interests similar to those of the accused, and an outsider, usually an attorney.

2,000 Expected to Attend Johns Park Melon Festival

The Johns Park association is preparing to entertain more than 2,000 persons Friday night at the annual watermelon festival at the park.

The festival has become a tradition at the park in the north side of the city where thousands have gathered during melon seasons to eat their fill and have a good time.

J. R. Stevenson, president of the sponsoring park association said 300 watermelons will be served Friday night along with sandwiches, ice cream, soft drinks and coffee.

A ball game between the AVC and Moose teams will get the evening's activities under way.

There will be a concert by the Johnny Appleseed junior high school band and a boxing show by the boys at the park playground.

Stevenson said proceeds of the festival will be used to buy chairs and other equipment for the Johns park pavilion.

Although dogs exercise less and therefore eat less in hot weather, a correctly balanced diet contains the same ingredients all year round.

New Night Fighter

COLUMBUS — (AP) — The air force's new jet fighter has been named officially the "Blackhawk," Curtiss-Wright corporation officials announced.

The fighter, designated the F-87, is an all-weather plane. It will be painted black to make it less distinguishable in night or inclement weather operations, officials said.

Meet to Plan Red Cross Work

One of the most important meetings of the year for the First Aid committee of the Red Cross will be held here at 4:30 p. m. next Monday, Gerald Coron, water safety and first aid director of the Richland county chapter, said today.

The meeting will be held in the chapter house, 309 Park avenue west. Plans for the fall and winter program are expected to be mapped at the meeting.

Chairman of the committee is John H. Finefrock jr. Other committee members are Harry Dailey, Leroy McGinty, Robert Coe, Floyd Hoover, David Buell, Douglas Norton and W. J. Robbins.

If a diver could descend six miles into the ocean he would have to withstand six tons of pressure against every square inch of his body.

Without Painful Backache
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills. —Adv.

Reinforcements Speed to Holy Land to Preserve Truce

Quick Aid Asked By Bernadotte

U. S. Sends More Observers

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Reinforcements to assist Count Folke Bernadotte in executing the Palestine truce are being rushed to Rhodes today in response to his urgent demand

Responsible sources in Washington said that Bernadotte threatened to throw up his difficult task of bringing peace to the Holy Land if these reinforcements were not sent promptly.

Additional U S Army, Navy, Air Forces and Marine Corps observers are being dispatched to Rhodes. They bring to 125 those Americans assigned to observing the truce.

The United States contingent will be headed by a tough Marine Corps general. He is Brig. Gen William E Riley who leaves for Rhodes today.

More than a score were sent to aid the mediator in the earlier truce These came home but were replaced when the indefinite truce ordered by the United Nations went into effect

Presumably France and Belgium, the other members of the truce commission also will reinforce their contingents but it is doubtful that they will be as large as those sent by the United States

Bernadotte demanded greatly enlarged truce teams immediately when the present truce was ordered. Apparently no effort was made to fulfill these demands until his threat to resign was received

The urgency of his demand impressed officials in Washington as indicating that the present peace is more uneasy than appears from dispatches This was confirmed in informed circles where it was said there are repeated minor violations all along the line by both sides

Soviets Seek Danube Rule

BELGRADE — (INS) — Russia set in motion today plans to exclude the western powers from special privileges previously held on the Danube

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky in a surprise move introduced a proposed convention which would deprive the U. S. of any share in control of the vital waterway.

The so-called proposal to return "the Danube to Danubians" in effect would invest full control of the Danube river in Russia. It declares the 1921 convention governing the Danube null and void.

Although the United States was not a party to the 1921 convention, the British and French enjoyed special privileges under this pact.

Despite the fact that the Russian draft proposed that the Danube be open for merchant vessels and goods of all nations, it provides for a permanent commission —composed only of Danubian states in the Soviet sphere—to establish, supervise and maintain uniform navigation

Leader Named In Hungary

BUDAPEST, Hungary —(AP)— Arpad Szakasits a former stone mason, journalist and poet, was elected president of Hungary today The vote by parliament was unanimous

He succeeds Boltan Tildy, who resigned last Friday, a few hours after his son-in-law, Dr Victor Csornoky, was arrested and charged with espionage and treason

When Imre Nagy speaker of Hungary's parliament announced that Szakasits was the only candidate for the presidency, members of the Democratic Peoples party and of the Christian Womens camp—both opposition groups —walked out They returned to their seats after the speaker declared Szakasits elected

Jap Students Will Study Their ABC's

TOKYO—(INS)—Japanese educators are experimenting with the Roman alphabet If the tests are successful, Japanese schoolboys may be reciting the ABC's along with the complicated Chinese characters.

From September to March, 90 primary school classes scattered throughout the country will teach exclusively in Roman letters (called Romaji) Educators want to see if this system will be an improvement over the old, time-consuming ideographs.

All of the schools volunteered for the experiment which covers the first through fifth grades.

One of the principal criticisms of the Japanese language is that children must spend many years mechanically memorizing the letters to the neglect of other vital studies

Ballot Cast By President

INDEPENDENCE, Mo — (U.P) — President Truman, up at dawn, cast a before-breakfast ballot today and headed for Washington

His aides said he would probably call for an immediate briefing on developments in Moscow.

Mr Truman fresh from two days of rest at his home here, was fifth of the 310 qualified voters in his precinct to turn up at the American Legion Memorial hall, a block from his home

He arrived at the polls on foot Election workers greeted him cordially Mrs Emma Flowers, a Republican election judge, looked up from her stacks of Republican and Democratic primary ballots and asked

I wonder which ballot you want?

Mr Truman laughed "I wonder" he replied

That's what we always ask him Mrs Flowers said later And that's what he always replies"

Army Faction Fights UMT

WASHINGTON—(INS)—A strong Army faction is urging the top command to drop universal training plans and concentrate on expanding troop strength and extending the draft

It was disclosed today that this move is being taken by the faction which some months ago urged creation of a 27-division Army as compared to the 18 divisions obtained

The group now argues that UMT is dead because selective service has been passed by Congress It also points out that the draft act is effective for only two years murder of Phyllis Niebel, the 20-year-old daughter of the Niebels.

The third count was for the killing of Mrs Nolana Niebel, 52, the farm supervisor's wife.

The grand jury went into session shortly before 10 a. m. It finished its hearings about 3:50 p. m. when its foreman, Thomas D. Brown, 178 West Second street, turned over the 12 indictments to Judge Kalbfleisch.

Daniels was returned here Thursday to face charges in the Niebel slaying Other counties which wanted him for murder agreed to allow Common Pleas Judge Eugene McNeil of Van Wert county to decide where Daniels should be tried

He chose Richland county since this county had the best case against Daniels.

PARTNER SLAIN

Daniels was returned to Mansfield last Thursday to face charge in the triple-slaying. He and his partner, John C. West, also a reformatory parolee, engaged in a two-week killing spree in which six persons were murdered.

West, 22, of Parkersburg, W. Va., died of a bullet wound in the head, received when he attempted to shoot it out with officers at a road block near Van Wert.

Daniels surrendered to Van Wert County Sheriff Roy Shaffer, one of the witnesses who appeared before the grand jury yesterday.

Daniels is held under 24-hour guard in the county jail, isolated from the other prisoners.

Paternity Suit Names Priest

PORTSMOUTH — (AP) — Rosemary Yuenger, 20, today filed a $100,000 damage suit against the Rev George Brown, alleging he is the father of her unborn child

Father Brown, formerly pastor of Holy Redeemer Catholic church, pleaded innocent to a paternity charge filed by the young woman last June and still pending He no longer lives here

Miss Yuenger, a divorcee, alleged in her petition that Father Brown induced her and her year-old daughter to accompany him to "St Ann's rectory in Columbus" last March 24 on the promise of a "home and comfort."

U. S. Reds Stage Rally

NEW YORK —(AP)— American communists jammed into Madison Square Garden last night for a noisy, demonstrative national convention of their own—highlighted by censure of both the Democrats and Republicans and praise for both Russia and Henry A Wallace

Speakers at the opening session of the convention, the first to be held by the group since 1945, were high party chieftians, all of whom are under federal indictment on charges of advocating the overthrow of the U. S. government by violence and force

William Z Foster, national chairman of the party in this country and the top leader of the group of 12 arrested two weeks ago on grand jury's charges, was the convention keynoter The crowd was estimated at 20 000

Bomb Found Near Vatican

VATICAN CITY — (U.P) — A street cleaner found a small bomb among the columns inn St Peters square today

Vatican officials called the artillery department of the Italian army Bomb disposal squads found the bomb had no fuse.

They set it off just outside the square. The strong explosion shook a nearby building.

Home Burglarized

Howard E. Lee, 1336 Lexington avenue road, reported to sheriff's deputies late yesterday that someone had broken into his home during the past two weeks, taking a table radio, a man's shirt and some canned food. Lee said he was on vacation during the burglary.

Land Brings $33,685 at Auction

Sheriff Sells Parcels In Partition Action

Four tracts offered at a sheriff's sale in partition brought $33,685, Deputy Sheriff P. S Carroll reported yesterday.

The sale was ordered in common pleas court by Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch in the case of L C. Keffer vs. Orpha Pulver Hout and others.

The sale was conducted by Auctioneer Neil S. Robinson, Saturday at the courthouse

Barney Pulver, Mansfield, R. D. 4, was the successful bidder on two tracts 26.4 acres on the south side of U. S. Route 42, two miles east of Mansfield, on a bid of $7,100, and 5.9 acres, immediately to the west of the first tract, on a bid of $9,500.

A 38-acre tract on the west side of U. S. Route 42 went to Boyd Lantz, 146 Marion avenue, on his bid of $7,025.

Twenty-four lots in the Pulver Estates allotment at U S Route 42 and Grace street were sold. The successful bidders and the number of lots they bought included:

William Johns, 236 Ashland road, two lots for $580; Don S. Bookwalter, Mansfield, R. D. 1 three lots at $795, and three other lots at $585; George Rogers, 10 lots at $2,100, Bill Elias Klonsiadis, four lots at $2,700, two lots at $2,350, and one lot at $950.

While Dr. Adam's appointment has just been confirmed, he has been acting in the Ohio State post for the past six months Dr Adam will remain in Mansfield, going to Columbus for one day each week, during the rest of the summer and two days each week beginning in the fall.

Dr Adam, 35, has his office here at 114 Park avenue west He and his wife and their two children live at Glenleigh Farm on the Cook road

A graduate of the University of Colorado School of Medicine, Dr. Adam served with the Air Force during the World War II as chief of the neuro-psychiatric service at the Army Air Force regional hospital in Maxwell Field, Ala, and as instructor at the School of Aviation Medicine, Randolph Field.

Drink Places Get Warning

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Dale Dunifon, director of liquor control, today issued a warning against the sale and consumption of alcoholic beverages involving minors.

In a letter mailed to 20,000 permit holders in Ohio, Dunifon called attention to the sections of Ohio law which provide fines for selling to minors as well as possible revocation of permits.

He also advised permit holders to report to local police any minor who gives false information for the purpose of making a purchase. Ohio law defines such misrepresentation as a misdemeanor subject to a fine from $10 to $25.

At the same time, Donald T. Geyer, chief enforcement officer, ordered all liquor inspectors to file charges in local courts against violators in addition to bringing citations before the board of liquor control

Dunifon said that "wherever alcoholic beverages are legal, surveys show that the topmost concern of the general public is the sale and consumption of beer and liquor among minors"

He told permit holders: "The law is positive and you, as a permit holder, are responsible. Be positive of age before selling or serving"

His letter called for cooperation of all law enforcement officers—state, county, municipal and townships—"if there is to be effective enforcement and compliance with the Ohio liquor laws."

Parrys To Be Feted Tonight

Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Parry sr. of Dunedin, Fla., former Ashland residents, will observe their golden wedding anniversary tonight with open house at the home of their son, Ivor jr., 259 Sandusky street, Ashland. Friends will be received from 7 to 9 p. m.

The Parrys are visiting at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Catherine Miller, 203 Arthur street. A former Ashland grocer for 36 years, Parry and his wife moved to Florida two years ago.

The Parrys have two sons, Thomas Edison Parry of Ridgewood, N. J., and Ivor jr., of Ashland, and three daughters, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Willard Snyder of Ashland and Mrs. Mildred Suter of Dunedin, Fla.

All the children are to be present at a family dinner at noon at the Miller home. The event also celebrates the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Parry.

Children like cocoa when a marshmallow is floated on each cup.

Red Cross Workers Feted By Director

Red Cross Water Safety Instructors and Senior Girl Scouts who have been assisting with the Red Cross Learn-to-Swim and Water Safety campaign were entertained Monday night at the Girl Scout camp by Gerald Coron, Richland county Red Cross Safety Service director.

Mr. Coron, who has charge of first aid, water safety and accident prevention in the county, gave the party in the form of a corn roast. Twenty-one persons were present for the affair.

After supper the group was led in singing by Miss Margaret Rooney, Girl Scout executive secretary.

Chaperons during the evening were Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Osmond and Mrs. J. Ward Ingraham, Girl Scout water safety registrar.

Plans are under way for the summer's second Red Cross Learn-to-Swim and Water Safety campaign which will begin Aug. 10 at 10 a. m. in the Liberty park pool. Beginners and intermediate classes will be offered for children and adults and an evening life saving class will be organized if the demand for it is great enough.

Registrations are being accepted now at the Red Cross chapter house.

A new type of class has been organized for the next campaign. Children between the ages of 2 and 5 years may be enrolled for the 11 a. m. class and their mothers will go into the pool with them while the youngsters are being given instructions.

Miss Oleta Novotny, 556 Springmill street, gives Mansfielders a preview of what designer Irene predicts bathing suits will resemble in about five years. And the suit she is wearing is of 1908 vintage—so, as usual, it's more the 'Old Look' than the 'New.' In the typical bathing suit of 1948 is Miss Juanita Neal, 29 Greenwood avenue. Judge for yourself, fellas and girls! Will Irene's prediction be the next step in the fashion rejuvenation?

'New Look' Predicted For Bathing Suits

By PATRICIA CLARY, UP Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—Within five years bathing beauties will be wearing grandma's long black bathing suits, a top Hollywood designer predicts.

Irene, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's fashion expert, said the New Look was bound to get down to the beach. Every fashion trend, she said, pointed to resurrection of the black jersey bloomers that used to cover bathers from the wrist to the knee.

"Bathing suits," Irene shrugged, "could hardly get briefer. They'll have to get longer."

What with one thing and another, they're liable to roll right down to the ankle.

One reason is that clothes are old-fashioned in other departments. Another is that milky white skin is back in style. Another is that Esther Williams will show up in long, red underwear when she makes the life of Annette Kellerman.

"They were just as sexy as a midriff suit," Irene reflected. "Skin-tight, you know, and very intriguing.

"And they won't keep women from swimming. Miss Kellerman swam the English Channel in one."

What Miss Williams wears in the movies, M-G-M firmly believes, sets the American bathing suit scene. It currently looks encouraging. Miss Williams is drifting around "On an Island With You" in a little more than sequined seaweed.

This, gentlemen, may be the best thing you'll see in a long time.

Irene, who designs for top stars at the studio and wealthy socialites in her own salon, has encouraged the fashion toward $100 bathing suits you wouldn't dare take near the water. She's dressed Miss Williams in sequins, rhinestones, mirrors, gold cloth, gold braid, satin and what looks like a revolving barberpole.

"My biggest problem," she said, "is thinking up something different." Miss Williams' suits have to swim through the water and look good when they come out.

Irene is working on white lace, fringe and feathers. If she gets no more ideas, she may have to drag out long drawers.

Housewives Resort To Meat Boycott

WHILE housewives in Dallas, Tex., are attracting considerable national attention by their concerted effort to establish a city-wide boycott on meat-buying during all of this week—in the hope of bringing prices down—it may be doubted if any noticeable good will come from such action.

Even if all meat consumers in the country should join in a gesture of resentment against present exorbitant meat prices, it would seem that a week would be entirely too short a time to bring about sufficient readjustment of supply and demand to compel any substantial price cuts.

With yesterday's report of hog prices reaching a "world's record" in the Cleveland stockyards, and with beef continuing at prices induced by scarcity, it becomes increasingly clear that inflationary causes must be recognized and corrected in order to again bring food prices within the bounds of reason.

Promise of an exceptionally large corn crop this year leads to hope of a substantial increase in cattle and hog feeding for market, which would tend to lower meat prices—if competition is permitted to function, rather than a continuance of government maneuvering to hold prices at high levels.

Meanwhile, without resort to a boycott, common sense dictates that purchase of meat, and other excessively priced commodities, be kept at an absolute minimum of requirements and that real needs, rather than ability to buy, be made the determing factor in marketing for family food supplies. Oddly enough, it is being noted that persons who are classed "wealthy" are inclined to buy more economically than those who are temporarily being paid more money than they know what to do with, and who have not cultivated habits of thrift.

What Does Daniels Think–When Alone?

EXTENT to which Robert Murl Daniels has evidenced a spirit of bravado and apparently enjoyed the notoriety he gained by the murder trail which he carried across north-central Ohio a couple of weeks ago, should be recognized by young and old alike as a common trait of people whose abnormality takes on some form of "exhibitionism," which, in his case, reached the extreme of lust for killing.

It was noted yesterday that "dozens of curious spectators gathered in the vicinity of the jail and courthouse, hoping to get a glimpse of Daniels," and while such curiosity is natural, it may be hoped that continued appearance of public interest will not be such as to seem to place this young desperado in an heroic role, in the minds of Mansfield young people, some of whom may already be evidencing "exhibitionist" tendencies as a result of environment and observation.

The Columbus Dispatch, in an editorial on this subject, presents some thoughts that may well be pondered by everyone, particularly by those who regard minor offenses lightly:

"The long and lonely road for Robert Murl Daniels has begun. His partner is dead and he now faces the slowly operating processes of the law which are neither slowed nor quickened by any case, no matter how sensational.

"He has pleaded guilty to the three Niebel murders—vengeful, wanton murders—and now he must await indictment and trial. And all the time he will be alone.

"The sins they did by two and two, they must pay for one by one. Daniels has nothing in all the world now but himself, and what a weak reed to lean upon he must find himself in the lonely, monotonous hours of imprisonment!"

Olympic Games Reflect Friendliness

THE PAGEANTRY attending the opening of the summer Olympic games in London made a scene described by correspondents as one of the most spectacular England has seen in generations. It was a scene made colorful by many uniforms and many flags, made impressive by the massing of the athletes of many lands.

Pageantry of uniforms and banners is usually associated with military displays. How different is that of the Olympic games! However peaceful the times, there is a sinister quality about military display which cannot be escaped. National standards carried to an athletic field, on the other hand, symbolize peace and friendship.

The pageantry will be carried back to the homelands of the Olympic athletes, thanks to the motion picture camera. Surely those who see it on their local theater screens will thrill just as did those fortunate ones who were present to watch these youths gather to test their skills by the rules of sport. If the Olympic games could have a whole generation in which to work, undisturbed by the political and economic dissensions of the nations, the old world might become unrecognizable.

California Again Being 'Explored'

IN COLORFUL eighteenth century garb, 40 Californians have set out on horseback for a three-month re-enactment of the Spanish expedition of 1769, which first explored California. As part of the state's centennial celebration, the group will duplicate the journey that started in Mexico and proceeded 500 miles to end at San Francisco Bay.

Commanded by Captain Don Portola, the expedition explored California in an effort to strengthen Spain's claims, and to Christianize the Indians. The friars and clerics in the band were responsible for founding California's chain of early missions.

A reader was intrigued by two quite unrelated items in yesterday's News-Journal—one telling of hogs bringing $32 per hundred pounds in the Cleveland stockyards, and the other mentioning a man in China who sold his wife for $6.50 (American money)—and if there's a moral hanging around anywhere you're welcome to it.

Harry Wade warns against taking the Henry Wallace candidacy too lightly, directing attention to the fact that "this is the first medicine show to fill a ball park."

As Claude Callan views it: "In a sense the cost of living never changes. It always is a little out of your reach."

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Money Value Key To Berlin Situation

LARGELY because Americans are traditionally unable to comprehend the complex movements of European currency exchange, the situation in Berlin has been portrayed in this country as an alarming struggle for military power.

It must be granted that the situation is critical and that war might eventuate. It may be useful, however, to recount the circumstances that brought about the currency factors in the present situation.

It has been clear for many months that the Russians would try in every way to sovietize Berlin and to attempt to frighten the people of that city sufficiently to move them to demand that the Western Allies leave. It also was clear that the Soviet government would use every means possibile short of war to accomplish this end.

The real trouble began when, in the elections for the Berlin Diet in March, the Russians suffered a defeat for their Communist party. They then began various disturbances in west-bound traffic. Our move then was to create a new currency for Western Germany.

We did this partly because with the old marks, the Russians, who had the printing plates of the occupation marks, could always print money and thus strip the Western zones of goods. We also did it because the terrible depreciation of the old mark removed every incentive for labor to work more than a day or two at full speed.

The success of the new Western mark was established from the beginning. Production went up, more commodities began to show up in the Western zone, people began to hope for stability and possibly some savings. Coal production went to its highest point since the war.

When the new currency appeared, the Russians were, for various reasons, practically forced to close the frontier. This was largely because under the terms through which the new Western currency was issued, it was impossible in the Western zone to use black market money and Nazi accumulations.

Since this money could not be used in the Western zone, it naturally was rushed to the Eastern zone, where it could buy large quantities of goods. The Russians were, therefore, compelled to bring about currency reform of almost exactly the same nature in their own zone. They did this immediately. But in the meantime they had been forced to close the frontier.

* * *

What Russians Promised.

NOW BEGAN a war of nerves. The Russians said that, because of the currency reform which originated in the Western zone, the poor people of Berlin would be starved. The Russian-controlled press in Berlin urged the Allies to get out in order, as they said, to save the Berliners from starvation.

It was clear from the outset that they could not and would not get out. The Russian gesture, therefore, was to bring about the starvation of the Western zone in Berlin.

The answer of the Western Allies was to fly food and coal into the city. This seemed to be the best way to maintain the sympathy of the Berliners for the Western powers.

The Russians then claimed that we did this as a pretext to bring huge air power close to their doorstep.

After many threats of force, the Russians announced that they would feed the Berliners after August 1st. Later, they added that they would also supply coal from the region beyond the Iron Curtain. This, of course, put a grave responsibility upon the Russians They must fulfill this promise or lose face in Berlin.

It has been clear from the beginning that, unless some incident should provoke war, the Russians would have to give in. If they feed the people of Berlin and we remain there, the Russians will have flatly failed.

They attempted, in their promise of food deliveries, to arrange that the Russian mark would be used in payment. This, however, would have happened in any event because the Berliners regard the Western mark as greater in value.

Meanwhile, France, England and other Western powers in Europe were frightened by belligerent talk about armored trains and the like. A political crisis developed in France which was actually rooted in the crisis, although the French claim there were other reasons.

Since the Russian concessions have been announced, the situation has eased in the manner known to every newspaper reader. It is clear now that the Berliners will not starve. It also is clear that the Western sector will gain in economic strength. And it is clear that we will stay in Berlin.

Explanation By Committee

Editor News-Journal.

The question has been raised, "What is the Richland County Anti-Discrimination Committee?" The committee has attracted interest by action in the case of an ex-Marine Negro who was certified to the mayor as an eligible applicant for appointment to the local police force.

The organization is composed of members of various civic groups who work as a voluntary association. The function of the committee is primarily of a fact-finding nature. Upon being approached in an apparent case of discrimination, the committee determines the facts of the case. If the case is considered meritorious, it is recommended to civic organizations for their consideration and support by appropriate action.

The main objective of the committee is to obtain legislation or enforcement of laws already in existence to protect minorities. We are fully aware that "civil rights" is the foremost issue of the day and received active bi-partisan recognition but good action taken by honest bi-partisan legislators has been nullified by bad bi-partisan actions.

The committee is convinced that if positive assertion by the people in a unified public expression on this subject is undertaken, our political leaders, local or otherwise, irrespective of party affiliation, will realize that recognition of the basic rights and needs of man is the cry of the people today and that trampling upon human dignity will not be tolerated

People learned from bitter experience in Germany that culminated in World War II that assault upon democracy begins in exploiting prejudices against minorities. It is our aim to overcome the spread of group hatred because such defamation not only endangers the security of particular minority groups, but because democracy itself is imperilled by such attacks upon it.

Will Majority Submit?

By THOMAS L. STOKES

ONCE AGAIN we have the somewhat nauseous spectacle of a filibuster by a handful of southern senators to prevent action on a measure to lift one of the restrictions in the South on the right to vote, a basic right in our democracy.

In bringing forward the bill to repeal the poll tax as a prerequisite of voting for federal officials, the Republican Senate leadership selected the least controversial of the measures embraced in the civil rights program they long have endorsed and which now also carries the specific endorsement of President Truman and the general but unmistakable endorsement by the 1948 Democratic platform.

Developments will show to what extent the Republican leadership is sincere in pushing this bill forward during the special session and to what extent it is a political maneuver to embarrass President Truman by revealing the split in his own party and thus retaliate for his call for a special session.

It is obvious that this issue could provide a convenient blockade against some of the other legislation that the President has asked of the Republican Congress and that the southern wing of the Democratic party could be charged with the blame.

The test of Republican sincerity will come in whether it makes a real effort, after a reasonable time of discussion for this much-discussed issue, to limit debate through cloture and get action. That requires a two-thirds vote.

Whatever Republican motives may be- and doubtless they are mixed, politics being what it is—the southerners must bear the onus of tangling up Senate procedure by a corruption of the rights and privileges of a legislative minority and of whatever ill effects accrue to other pending legislation from their obstructive tactics.

* * *

World Is Watching.

WITH our democracy on parade before the world today it is time to make at least this start affecting the fundamental right of a free ballot. This is not the only impediment on the ballot in the South, but it is one easily reached and removed.

The need for abolition of the poll tax has been recognized among many southerners for a long time. This is attested not only by the fact that in recent years four southern states have abolished the poll tax, but also by the active campaigns against this and other discriminations.

The success of this campaign by earnest southerners is manifest in a general increase in the South since 1940, as is shown by an analysis by Luther P. Jackson, professor of history at Virginia state college, made for the Southern Regional Council.

This activity has included the bringing of court cases which resulted in the Supreme Court's outlawry of the "white primary."

Georgia is the latest state to abolish the poll tax. Others which have done away with it in recent years are North Carolina, Florida and Louisiana.

But there are still seven states where a citizen has to pay a tax for the privilege of voting, itself un-American and un-democratic—Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

While this reform preferably should be achieved by the states, themselves, the difficulties in the states where the tax is still imposed are so great that it has become necessary for Congress to act in the fields where it has authority, in election of federal officials. This is important for democratic formulations of national policy.

What Happened To Those Predictions?

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Here are some predictions some people would like to forget — this time from barons of business who lobbied so hard in the summer of 1946 to kill OPA:

Wesley Hardenberg, President, the American Meat Institute: "What is needed is for Congress to do away entirely with all OPA meat and livestock price regulations of every description so that consumers again may get the kind of meat they want, when they want it, at a fair competitive market."

John E. Jaeger, President, National Association of Retail Grocers, told the American Wholesale Grocers association: "We (retail grocers) feel that the time has arrived when . . . actions must be taken . . . to prevent renewal of the Price Control Act. Competition will benefit the consumer by making available ample food at reasonable prices."

Arthur Bruce, President, National Lumber Manufacturers Association: "I am personally of the opinion that we would be better off if the Office of Price Administration were to die a natural death June 30th."

Robert R. Wason, President, National Association of Manufacturers: "If OPA is finally dead, women . . . will now use the canned meats and other goods they have on their shelves to see them through any temporary period of price rises. If OPA is eliminated entirely, prices of automobiles may be expected to reach normal within six months, while rents might take at least a year."

Al Guckenberger, Executive Secretary, New York State Food Merchants Association: "Prices . . . will level off shortly as they had begun to do last August before controls were reimposed."

Herbert U. Nelson, Executive Vice President, National Association of Real Estate Boards: "We've got a gang in power who thinks solely of the consumer, and usually in terms of 'protecting' him."

Cabinet Pains President.

VISITORS who called on President Truman at the White House after Congress opened, found the chief executive hopping mad at some of his top executives. He was particularly irate with Secretary of the Army Kenneth Royall, Undersecretary of the Army William H. Draper and the Army's Chief of Staff Gen. Omar Bradley.

Truman said he was fed up with Royall and Draper for their sabotage of White House policies. Draper's policy of rebuilding Germany at the expense of her neighbors and Secretary Royall's inept handling of Army racial discrimination had got under his skin.

The President was more hurt than angry at the way his fellow Missourian, General Bradley, had reaffirmed segregation and the Army caste system 24 hours after his commander-in-chief had issued an executive order curbing segregation. Truman remarked to close friends that he might have expected trouble from many others, but not from Bradley.

* * *

Bradley's Real Statement.

LATER, however, the President learned the real facts about General Bradley's statement and he felt better. The chief of staff had left for Fort Knox, Ky., without seeing the afternoon papers in which Truman issued his segregation order. Next day Bradley got up at 6 a. m., and at 7:30 went into the conference at which he made his segregation remark—again without reading the papers.

Actually, Bradley's remark about segregation was taken out of context, since most of the conference dealt with improving human relationships in the Army between all groups.

One of the most interesting speeches was made by Texas-born Maj. Gen. Roderick Allen, who told about the excellent relations between white and colored troops in his 3rd Armored Division.

General Allen gave credit for that cooperation to his Negro chaplain, Capt. Osborne E. Scott, and to his Negro hostess, Margaret Collier, the daughter of a regular Army sergeant in the 24th Infantry, a famous Negro regiment.

Hershey's Draft Plans.

NOT ALL the details have been released officially yet, but Selective Service Director Lewis Hershey gave a brief report on draft plans to a closed-door session of the Senate-House armed services committees the other day.

He told the solons that the Selective Service machinery would be ready to process the first batch of draftees by October 15, but estimated the second call would not come before January 1.

Hershey told the senators and congressmen there was strong pressure—at that time—to start drafting 19-year-olds first, since they were not ready to settle down and would be less likely to be upset by Army service.

The two armed services committees, however, argued the opposite. Unanimously they agreed that the 24- and 25-year-olds should be taken before they passed the eligible age. This was later decided.

The Selective Service boss estimated that 9,000,000 youths were available for the draft, but only 1,386,000 would be eligible under the loophole-riddled plan for deferments. Of those who will be caught, the bulk are under 22 since many of those over 22 served in the recent war.

The number eligible for the draft in each age group was broken down by Hershey as follows: 25-year-olds, 8,000; 24-year-olds, 15,000; 23-year-olds, 19,000; 22-year-olds, 22,000; 21-year-olds, 222,000; 20-year-olds, 475,000; 19-year-olds, 625,000.

Idaho's 'Other Senator'

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON — "Well now," said the Other Senator from Idaho, "I wouldn't want to say anything about the senior senator, except that he and I seldom agree on anything . . ."

Having thus delivered the understatement of the week, six-foot, white-topped Henry D. Dworshak (pronounced like "drawer" in baby-talk) yawned hugely and considered the somewhat notorious case of Idaho's Senator Glen H. Taylor, currently the third party's vice-presidential nominee.

"Lots of people back home think I should jump all over him," the erstwhile country editor said mildly. "But in a way, you could say he was elected by a majority of the people in 1944, and if I started yelling about him, it would seem like I was flouting the voters."

What did he mean by that phrase, "in a way?"

"I wouldn't want to answer that," said Dworshak, "but you might hunt around and find somebody else from Idaho and ask him."

("Ha!" exploded a member of the senator's staff, "the people didn't vote for Taylor in 1944. They voted against C. A. Bottolfsen, the guy who ran against him. Nobody even thought about Taylor winning, but Bottolfsen had been governor a couple of terms and made a lot of people sore, so they just voted against him in protest—and look what they got!")

However, Dworshak was willing to admit that being constantly eclipsed by Taylor's penchant for getting publicity sometimes could get irksome—particularly when people started referring to him as "the Other Senator From Idaho."

It was easy to understand his point of view. The one-time printer's devil is the first man from Idaho ever to get on the powerful senate appropriations committee, which is a fine thing from the point of view of public responsibility. Nevertheless, it includes membership on about six subcommittees and requires an average of half a dozen hours work a day.

* * *

Unappreciated Toiler.

DWORSHAK is not the first legislator to get slightly bitter after sweating over a hot committee session all day—only to find a political opponent grabbing off all the headlines with a five-minute speech on the floor!

"Also, you can set in your chair on the floor and drowse all day," Dworshak said with a rueful grin, "and people will say, 'now that fellow is really on the job'. But if you're working like all get-out on appropriations hearings in committee somewhere, they figure you're just loafing. Oh, well . . ."

Just back from a quick swing around Idaho where he comes up for reelection this fall, Dworshak said he doubted that anything could be accomplished by the special session.

For one thing, he questions whether legislation ever is an effective weapon against inflation.

"If you've established the economic conditions which lead to inflation," he argued, "then you're going to have inflation—whether you like it or not. And certainly, through the war and the New Deal spending, those conditions have been established. There's no quick, painless cure for such an ailment. As far as us doing it now by quick legislation, the President is asking the Republican Congress to accomplish in fourteen days what the Democrats couldn't—or at least didn't—do in fourteen years!"

Back to the subject of Senator Taylor, Dworshak stressed that the two of them had very little in common—a continuation of his previous understatement about their differences of opinion.

Farmer's Diary

As the Summer Wanes

By CALVIN A. BYERS

HOT JULY is over and we have reached August. Plentiful summer rains make the cornfield glad, and send over all the countryside the luscious odors of growth . . . pollen forms on flaunting tassels and falls upon the young silks of shooting ears. Moist soil beneath fairly aches with growing extending roots. I touched it with bare feet and walked on luxury; looked back to admire the footprints perfectly molded there—not sticky, but cool with the feel of strength imprinted.

* * *

A DRAB little old-fashioned house stands along a back road where I frequently travel. It is a charming place, for the garden is good, and the yard has all kinds of flowers. I never met the folks who live there, but I have always felt that I knew them well. Someone, I know, loved order and beauty.

Driving slowly along, the other day, I glimpsed an old lady framed in the screened kitchen door, saw her open and carefully close the garden gate and stand among the friendly hollyhocks. They waved about her stooped shoulders and her sweet, wrinkled face peered out to me between the dancing blooms.

At the summit of the hill, I stopped to check the oil of my car, and looked back. She was still there, stooping to catch the fragrance of the kneehigh blooms of sweet peas, and idly caressing them before she re-entered her drab old kitchen door. I was satisfied.

Thomas Carlyle once said that a man possesses great wealth when he loves and blesses the beauty of many things around him. This old lady, blessing her flowers, spreading color and order and gay rhythmic beauty all about her premises, is doing more than she knows for the people who pass by. 'Tis only heaven that is given away—'tis only God may be had for the asking."

* * *

LAST evening I sat on the step of the Grange Hall at the corner, and watched the sunset. It grew richer by the moment—gold and scarlet, mauve and pink. The picture framed by the green wooded hills, the field of wheat shocks and blooming clover, was far too brilliant for this earthy paradise. Then the lumbering crane flew over, and in the deep silence I recalled and spoke aloud Bryant's "To a Waterfowl."

Ashland College Acquires Vetville, War Housing Project

Council Adds Final Approval

Delay Action On City Income Tax

ASHLAND — Ashland college will become sole owner of its adjoining Vetville in the near future.

City council added its government-required approval last night to the college ownership.

Recent congressional legislation gives colleges and universities the ownership of all the government-barracks buildings in the college- veteran housing units, provided there is formal approval by the college board of trustees and of the city governmental units. Last night's council approval was the final phase of legislation necessary under government regulations.

The barracks are located on college-owned land adjoining the campus. Eighteen married couples and a number of single students now occupy the small portable buildings. Landscaping and efforts of the veterans themselves have made the village an attractive spot. The college realizes an income of approximately $5,000 annually from the buildings.

With council's approval, the city waives the requirements hitherto imposed requiring removal of the buildings following the student housing emergency.

DELAY TAX ACTION

No action was taken by council last night on the recommendations of the Citizen's Committee for a proposed income tax for the city to be presented to voters in the fall. Mayor Louis Mansfield told council he would have a written report on the subject at the next meeting.

Council passed a resolution accepting a lease at $1 per year for 10 years of the present V. F. W. ground used as a ball-field and playground by children in the northern part of the city. By this measure, the city will maintain the playground as a part of its park system. The land was a gift to the V. F. W. for playground purposes.

Following adjournment of council, Dr. C. B. Meuser, city-county health commissioner, discussed informally a proposal to invite several adjoining counties to participate in the services of the new city-county sanitarian for milk inspections. Revenue from such participation would save the city a considerable amount of money, the commissioner pointed out.

Hear Talk On Housing

Mansfield area residents have been invited to attend a meeting of the newly-formed Mansfield Housing Forum group at the YMCA, Tuesday, at 7:30 p. m.

The group was formed under the sponsorship of the Mansfield YMCA to instruct area residents in the proper procedure to follow before building or purchasing a home. Each week a local housing expert, including contractors, architects, finance, real estate and veterans' organization representatives, offers his experience to those intersted.

This week's speaker will be Harold Mansfield, real estate dealer, who will stress the importance of style construction and site selection.

Discuss Program

Members of the Merry Twelve 4-H club discussed their health program at a recent meeting held at the home of Margaret Gettins. The next meeting will be held at the home of Leile Bowser at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Shelby Delays Action On Police Pay Hike

SHELBY—Shelby's city council last night adopted "delaying tactics" on three major proposals.

A proposed wage increase of $15 a month to city policemen and firemen was tabled along with a proposal to purchase materials for the expansion of the Municipal Light and Power plant.

Council also deferred action on a petition by Leo Price and Joe Gwirtz, owners of the Safety Cab company, asking for a raise in fare rates of 10 cents on all fare rates.

However, the council authorized the Director of Public Safety to request bids for street and sewer repairs and new lines for the water works.

UNFAVORABLE SENTIMENT

The suggestion that council pass an ordinance to purchase materials necessary for the expansion of the light plant, introduced by J. P. Adkins, utilities manager, brought unfavorable sentiment by city councilmen.

"I refuse to vote on any ordinance until J. Emery (consulting engineer) has the report and recommends it," said Councilman J. Herlihy. He added "I will not go along on anything that is so obscure."

E. E. Eckert also refused to vote on the proposal, adding that the city was paying Emery to act as a consulting engineer and that he, for one, wanted Emery's decision or recommendation before going ahead with an ordinance to proceed.

Kiddies Give Play Tonight

Opening performance of the Mansfield Children's Theater's last production of the season will be given at 8 p. m. today at South Park pavilion when the little players present "The Tinder Box" under the direction of Harold McCuen.

The performance will be repeated Wednesday night at the same time with an alternate cast.

Scheduled to appear tonight in leading roles will be Roger Thaler, Peggy Bayer, Tommy Cook, Hugh Maxwell, Christine Fernyak, Susie Wolfe, Myrna Stern, Molly Maxwell, Chip Ballentine, John Matthes, Adella Morly, Carol Jane Ramsey and Roberta Weil.

A curtain raiser, "Little Black Sambo," which will precede the main production, will be under the direction of Mary Jo Hunter.

Tickets for both performances may be purchased at the pavilion.

Marion Men Cited On Delinquency Count

Two Marion men were held in county jail today on a warrant charging them with contributing to the delinquency of a minor and entering a private home without permission.

Sheriff's deputies said the men, Billy O. Donall, 19, and Herbert Britton, 23, will be arraigned before Mayor Frank H. Linton of Lexington for hearing.

Russia Cuts Phone Lines

BERLIN —(INS)— Russia made preparations today to cut telephone communications between the western sectors of Berlin and the western occupation zones.

The Soviets were revealed to be re-routing long distance telephone lines between the Soviets sector of Berlin and the Russian occupation zones in obvious preparation for such a move.

Long distance lines for all of Berlin, including the Soviet sector, at present pass through the American sector.

A United States official said that the Russian re-routing of lines now is virtually complete except for the placement of necessary equipment.

Crawford Field Day For Farmers Friday

TIRO—Crawford county farmers will spend Friday observing practical demonstrations in farm conservation and better farm practices.

Russell Miller, county agent, announced that three farm specialists will explain the work. They are: Earl Jones, soils-crops specialist from Ohio State university extension service; Kenneth Battles, farm building engineer and Hershel Hecker, soil conservation district supervisor.

The field day will open with a 10 a. m. session at the Lester T. Ross farm, two miles west of Galion on the New Winchester road and a 1:30 p. m. session at the Fred Gehret farm, two miles east of Bucyrus at the junction of State routes 19 and 100.

Farmers will observe: How to bring a run-down permanent pasture back to productivity by discing, liming, fertilizing and reseeding with ladino, alfalfa and brome grass; using a meadow for both hay and pasture crops; a five year old meadow-pasture of alfalfa, brome grass, and ladino clover; harvesting the forage crop with field chopper, elevator and mow dryer system and use of hay mow forced air drying system to produce better forage crops. The trash-mulch seeding on pasture demonstration will be at the Ross farm and the other demonstrations will be at the Gehert farm. All persons interested in agriculture are welcome, Agent Miller said.

A field day for high school pupils is scheduled for Sept. 22 at the J. E. Huggins farm, south of Bucyrus.

Meat Mart Looks Like Jewelry Shop

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD—(UP)—Meat costing what it does these days, a swank butcher shop in Beverly Hills has been remodeled to look like a jewelry store.

The hand-carved filets and precious T-bones are arranged carefully in gleaming showcases out in front, so couples can dreamily window shop as if for diamond rings. Some of the finely-cut steaks repose on velvet pillows, like gold watches or emerald earrings. The price tags remind you of jewelry, too

This chop salon is called Elgee Meats, and it advertises itself as the Tiffany of the meat world. The store's $10,000 front was patterned after a New York jewelry shop

For a while the place even had a press agent, so who was holding hands with whom over the sardine counter would get into the papers. There was an impressive sign, "custom cuts to order," and soft music mingles with the whirr of knives custom cutting little gems of beef.

As in buying high-priced trinkets, the package with which you emerge, a great deal poorer, from this place is almost as pretty as the meat. Each turkey, for instance, is delicately arranged in a little tub Sprigs of parsley are tucked under each wing paper lace frills grace each drumstick

IT PAYS OFF

No other butcher shop in the world can make these statements, and you easily can see why This policy, however, has paid off for owners Al Levie and Ben Gutterman. For they make a half-million dollars a year off the celebrities and society folks in town.

Some customers they lured by sending them free steaks in the mail. Joan Fontaine received hers in her studio dressing room and called up pronto to order more

Now Sonja Henie orders a 2½-inch porterhouse steak daily; Ingrid Bergman runs into the store herself to buy imported Swedish meats. Gregory Peck shops himself, too, but most stars, like Greer Garson and Jack Benny, send their cooks around.

"They used to order over the phone on credit, but too many stars didn't pay their bills, so we encourage cash and carry now," said Mr. Levie.

Elgee meats patiently keeps the 60-cents-a-week business of writer Billy Wilder, because he often pops for $100 worth of smoked eel, South African lobster tails or guinea hen breasts The staid emporium, however, was forced to cancel the business of silent star Theda Bara, because her order never went beyond 60 cents.

The Tiffany of the meat world next week plans a sort of welcome party for the Hollywood press For this there'll be flashing searchlights, as at movie premieres and shoeshine parlor openings, and champagne and caviar.

Mr. Levie vigorously denies reports he'll have Pinkerton detectives on hand to guard the steaks. He says he has it on good authority from the barns, anyway, that the price of meat will drop Then, he says, he could display cheaper chops all on one tray, like costume jewelry

Loretta Young's Home Looted

HOLLYWOOD —(AP)— It was a swell eighth wedding anniversary that actress Loretta Young and husband Tom Lewis celebrated, but it didn't have such a happy ending.

When Loretta and Lewis, a radio executive, returned to their spacious home they found that an agile burglar had climbed up the trellis, entered a second-story window, and stolen most of Miss Young's furs and jewelry. Miss Young set a tentative value of $36,000 on the gems and fur pieces

The actress and her husband had been at a party at pianist Artur Rubinstein's home.
